10. ENROLMENT FORM
The registration form should be filled in and signed by the exhibitor and then submitted to the Furniture Fair, and constitutes a definite commitment by the exhibitor. Enrolment will then be confirmed by the Furniture Fair. Enrolment obliges the exhibitor to occupy the allocated stand and to keep it set up and open at all times during opening hours and until the end of the Fair. In the event of cancellation by the exhibitor, all payments (file costs, stand fee and, possibly interest) remain due to the Furniture Fair, even when the stand has been rented to another exhibitor. As participation is on a non-transferable basis, no renounce or transfer - not even partially - is permissible.

11. ALLOCATION OF STANDS
The location and shape of the stand space is indicated by the Furniture Fair. Concerning the stand allocation, the Furniture Fair may organize the stands by certain criteria. In case of unforeseen circumstances or force majeure, the Furniture Fair retains the right to change the location of a stand assigned to an exhibitor.

12. INSURANCE
The Furniture Fair has signed up to the following policies:
• A legal liability insurance for the amount of € 5,000,000 (for itself and all exhibitors collectively). This policy is complementary even to contracts signed by the exhibitors at a later date.

A copy of the policies will be forwarded to the exhibitor at his request. The exemptions and exclusions of these policies will be charged to the exhibitor. Each participant agrees to pay his share in the all risk exhibition policy. The Furniture Fair declines all responsibility for loss, damage or other harm done to objects and goods on display, of whatever nature and for whatever reason.
Personal items are excluded.

Media Expo is the exclusive partner for publicity outside the stands. No advertising is allowed on vehicles in the car parks reserved for the Furniture Fair and its visitors.

15. FIRE PROTECTION
In accordance with the General Regulations of the fire safety measures, drawn up by the Management of Brussels Expo, exhibitors must comply with the legal requirements governing fire safety and the special requirements. In the case of non-compliance, the exhibitor himself is directly responsible for any loss. These regulations are available on request.

16. SMOKING BAN
Smoking is forbidden in all exhibition areas where shows for the general public and specific professions are held. This regulation applies both during the show itself and during installation and demolition.

17. ELECTRICAL INSTALLATIONS - CONTROL AND RESPONSIBILITY
All electrical installations within the stands must be carried out in accordance with the General Regulations for electrical installations and the rules of the special regulations of Brussels Expo's electricity department. Prior to the opening of the trade fair, there will be a technical inspection by an independent body, whose decision must be respected. These regulations are available on request.

Waste, carpet and other materials used in the stand construction must be removed by the exhibitor at the end of the Fair. The adhesive tape used to fix the carpet must also be carefully removed. The costs of removing materials, adhesive tape and paint stains, in other words the clearing up of the buildings and repair of any damage caused by exhibitors, their employees or their stand constructors shall be invoiced to any exhibitor who fails to respect these regulations.

22. DIFFERENCES
The exhibitors renounce their right to pursue a claim against the Furniture Fair for whatever reason or whatever damage. In the event of an application being rejected the applicant is not entitled to any form of compensation, nor can he hold the Furniture Fair responsible for any damage suffered by the applicant or by third parties. All eventualities not dealt with by these Rules of Procedure will be settled by the Furniture Fair's Board of Directors. All decisions are final.
